SECTION 5: DEFINITIONS

Capitalization is the addition of unpaid interest to the principal balance of your loan. The principal balance of a loan increases when payments are postponed during periods of forbearance because unpaid interest capitalized. As a result, more interest may accrue over the life of the loan, the monthly payment amount may be higher, or more payments may be required.

Forbearance permits the temporary cessation of payments, allowing an extension of time for making payments, or temporarily accepting smaller payments than previously scheduled. You are responsible for paying the interest that accrues on loan(s) during a forbearance. If you do not pay the interest that accrues, the interest may be capitalized.

SECTION 6: IMPORTANT NOTICES

By signing this form, I authorize, the loan holder and their respective agents and contractors to contact me regarding my loan(s), including repayment of my loan(s), at the current or any future number that I provide for my cellular telephone or other wireless device using automated telephone dialing equipment or artificial or prerecorded voice or text messages.

By providing an email address, you certify that this is your email and only accessible by you.
